Subject: Educators Needed for Fall 2021

Dear Dr. Grabowski,

Thank you for continuing to read and share our messages with colleagues and students. Please pass along the message below to graduating students who are still looking for a job.

Schools are eager to fill late-breaking teaching positions. Recent grads willing to relocate could have access to exciting opportunities in education! Apply to Southern Teachers now to find out which of these opportunities might be right for you.

We are seeking recent graduates and alumni who:

- are seeking a career where they actively build relationships and connect with others daily
- are passionate about working with kids and sharing their expertise
- studied chemistry or secondary science education

Southern Teachers works with 700 private/independent, college-preparatory schools around the South. These schools seek educators who are experts in their subject and passionate about sharing their knowledge with students. While teaching certification is a plus, it is not mandatory for secondary school positions.
