Dear Dr.,

We hope you had a restorative summer and are ready for the new school year. We took the summer slow-down to examine our practices and are excited to use what we learned in the last year and a half to continue to search for talented teachers and student-athletes for our member K-12 private/independent schools. As such, we'd like to announce our new Recruiting Office Hours for students.

Recruiting Office Hours

Thursdays 1-3:30 p.m.

Schedule a 15-minute Zoom meeting

Students curious about finding a science teaching job may sign up at any time to speak with one of our recruiters about independent schools and how we can help them find a job.

While formal teacher training in a college education department is helpful, private schools do not always require certification and can hire candidates to teach in their major field of study for middle and high school positions.

We will continue sending out notifications of our recruiting events in conjunction with career services, but we have set up this resource to answer student's questions about teaching in independent schools in the South and how Southern Teachers can help them with their job search.

Best of luck in the new semester and, as always, thanks for your help in letting students know about these teaching opportunities.

Best,

Ali Buchanan | Recruitment Coordinator
