As part of the newly expanded Safford teaching award program, the Department will support attendance at meetings or workshops where you will either be presenting or learning through presentations. Up to six awards of $250 each, two awarded each term, for a meeting to occur within the next six months. Applications will be accepted during the first week of each term. Students must have completed the comprehensive examination and be planning a career in teaching. A student can receive this award only one time.

Applications are awarded on a first come/first serve basis.
